PICKCUP

“The PickCup is designed to protect the hole edge when leaving the pin in!”

The PickCup is a new product that’s been developed in response to the recent rule change that now permits players to leave the flag in the hole when putting, a rule change designed to help speed up play but which has resulted in unexpected damage to the hole edge caused by players not removing the flagstick when retrieving their ball.

The PickCup sits in the hole, attached to the flagstick to collect your golf ball. The standard application is attached to the base next to the ferrule, but some clubs are creating shallow holes using PickCup during the Covid-19 pandemic to eliminate the need to touch the flagstick when collecting your ball and reducing the spread of infections.

A ball retrieval system that’s adapted to help clubs reduce the spread of infection.

This is the most complete ball-retrieval system on the market.

Saves time and easier than bending over to collect a ball from the hole.

It saves time, is easier than bending over to collect a ball from the hole and as custodians of better green care, we’re keen to stress that by removing the ball using this method rather than sticking your hand or putter in the hole, it helps prevent damage to the edge of the hole too.

Designed to meet the needs of Greenkeepers and Course Superintendents first. The choice of materials, design and build quality is all specific to course conditions and regular use.

A reliable and functional solution, PickCup is easy for players to use and will help protect green and hole conditions for longer. Saving time and money.
